

“All Together Now!”

2023 Summer Reading Program

Neillsville Public Library presents “All Together Now” during their summer reading program. The program is open for readers 4 to 12 years of age with programs, prize drawings, and story hours and craft activities. Pre-readers are invited to join the program with a parent, or other helper, who will read to them. Children reading on their own will keep a record of the books they choose to read.

The Summer Reading Program is designed to encourage children to continue reading during summer vacation, so that valuable reading skills will not be lost. They can select books based on each child’s interest and reading levels. The children will have from June 7 to August 12. Children who meet their reading goal will receive coupons from various local businesses. The children may also participate in fun-filled activities taking place at the Library this summer on Wednesdays. The Neillsville Public Library Foundation will provide funding for several of the programs. Wisconsin Valley Library Service will provide funding for magician, Isaiah Foster.

There will be a program every Wednesday from June 14 through July 26. Programs with performers will be outside in the east parking lot, weather permitting. Bring a chair or blanket to attend. Programs with performers are open to families and friends of all ages. Even if you’re not signed up for the summer reading program you are welcome to attend.
